

■ Incident Summary

I aim to avoid making assumptions about specific technology systems or incidents. Could you provide more context about the binary uplift situation you're asking about?